PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

4111 Sinclair St.
Austin, Tx. 78756
512/453-0409

When you read this, one of the most important national elections will have been held and everyone will know the direction the nation will go, both economically and politically in both domestic and foreign policy. I do hope each of you exercised your right and privilege to cast your ballot.

Veterans Day will be observed - a day of remembrance for many. Take a minute to pay tribute to those who have served so that we may remain free.

The baseball fan will know which team won the world series and can alibi the reason his team lost. The football fan will be spending at least two evenings and one day a week before the television pulling for his or her favorite team or sleeping through it when losing. The deer hunter will be telling of the "big buck" he shot and was never found. The coin collector will have only a few shows prior to late January 1985.

At least one of the above applies to each of us but the most important to all is Thanksgiving. Let us not forget to be thankful for all the good things that have come our way in 1984.

All is well with the association and we are looking forward to the final six months of the convention year.

January 1, 1985 dues for regular members will be $10.00, up from $8.00. Send your payment now and save $2.00. If you have been a member for at least three years you are probably eligible for Life Membership. The cost is $150.00, the same price for several years, and terms can be arranged if needed.

There are two major numismatic events that each of us should plan to attend if possible: (1) THE ANA MIDWINTER convention to be held in San Antonio in late February. If you would like to exhibit (all exhibits are non-competitive) contact Frank and Karla Galindo at once. (2) The TNA convention in El Paso in April. TNA will celebrate the 25th anniversary of its founding. Be there for the culmination of a quarter of a century for a great organization.

*****

Pate and I are thankful for all the good things that have come our way this year and especially for the many friends in TNA.

EGYPTIAN COINS UNDER THE BRITISH PROTECTORATE

... What? Egypt a part of the British Commonwealth Nations!!

Delmar G. Cooke,
San Antonio, Texas

Egypt has a continuous recorded history of 5,000 years, the longest in the world. The country has altered between periods of strength, when neighboring territories fell under its domination, and periods of weakness, when it came under foreign rule.

The period in Egyptian history and its coinage covered in this article is the 8-year period, 1914 to 1922, when Egypt was a British Protectorate. This British occupation made Egypt a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

To fully appreciate the change in government, it is necessary to examine the foreign rule just prior to the British occupation. In 1517, Turkey invaded Egypt making it a Turkish province and for the next 397 years Turkey ruled Egypt, with the exception of Ali Bey's 3-year reign and the three years of French occupation. Under Turkish sovereignty Egypt was ruled by a Khedive under the suzerainty of the Sultan of Turkey.

In the mid-1800s an event took place that eventually led to the complete British occupation of Egypt. With European capital, the French organized the Suez Canal Company. It was a 99-year concession to build and maintain a canal between Egypt and the Sinai Peninsula. Construction began in April 1859 and the Suez Canal was completed November 17, 1869. To the British, with governing powers over some 80 plus nations around the world and "Master of the Seas," the canal was extremely vital to their interest. By November 1875, the British government obtained effective control of the canal by purchasing more than 15,000 shares of stock from the Suez Canal Company for about $20 million. This purchase left France and the United Kingdom as the majority stockholders. Great Britain, to protect her interest in the canal, moved troops into the area in 1882 and for the next 32 years became de facto rulers of Egypt.

In 1914 at the outbreak of World War I the head of the Khedive was hostile to the Allied cause and fled to Constantinople. Egypt was declared a British Protectorate on December 18, 1914. The Khedive was formally deposed by Britain and Hussein Kamil Pasha was declared Sultan of Egypt.

With this change in government there was a drastic change in the coinage of Egypt. The 13 type coins, 32 coins by date and mint, were issued during British Protectorate period.

A most interesting article was written by Major Fred Pridmore in the September 1964 issue of Spink's

Numismatic Chronicle, under the title "Notes on Colonial Coins - The British Protectorate of Egypt, 18th December 1914 - 28th February 1922." In the article Major Pridmore gives an in-depth history and coinage of this period. He also mentions the fact that of the recent authors on Commonwealth coins, namely:

H.W.A. Linecar - British Commonwealth Coinage, London 1959

L.W.W. Wright - Colonial and Commonwealth Coins, London 1959

R. Friedberg - Coins of the British World, New York 1962

J.H. Remick - British Commonwealth Coins, 1st Edition, Quebec, Canada

none include the Egyptian Protectorate coins. He further stated "As this coinage was entirely British in conception, issue and control, during the period when the government of Egypt was administered by Britain, it should be included within the Commonwealth series."

It is reasonable to assume that Linecar, Wright and Freidberg have included Egypt in their later editions. Remick has done so in his 2nd and 3rd editions and gives Major Pridmore's article as a source and reference. The Krause Catalog of World Coins, 1983 edition, did for the first time group the Protectorate coins under the heading, "British Occupation 1914-1922." Previous editions have the Protectorate coins co-mingled with other coins under the heading "Monetary Reform."

Copies of Major Pridmore's article are available for interested persons by sending 15 cents and a large stamped, self addressed envelope to 206 E. Silver Sands, San Antonio 78216.

Next month - "Firsts in Egypt's Coinage."

PRESIDENT
TEXAS NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

IN GOD WE TRUST

J.P. Jones,
Waco, Texas

This past April Easter Sunday marked the 120th anniversary of the Coinage Act of April 22, 1864 which authorized the striking of the two cent piece and the inclusion on the coin of the motto "In God We Trust."

On November 13, 1861, seven months after the Confederate capture of Ft. Sumter, the Rev. M.R. Watkinson, pastor of the Baptist Meeting House in Ridleyville, Penn. wrote the following letter to Secretary of the Treasury Salmon P. Chase:

"Dear Sir:

You are about to submit your annual report to Congress respecting the affairs of the national finances.

One fact touching our currency has hitherto been seriously overlooked. I mean the recognition of Almighty God in some form in our coins . . ."

Rev. Watkinson went on to suggest a design emblematic of union and Divine protection, and the motto "God, Liberty, Law," stating his belief that such a design and motto would relieve the country from the ignominy of heathenism and place it under the Divine protection it claimed.

Within a few days of receiving the letter, Secretary Chase wrote the following to Director of the Mint James Pollock:

"No nation can be strong except in the strength of God, or safe except in His defense. The trust of our people in God should be declared on our national coins. You will cause a device to be prepared without unnecessary delay with a motto expressing in the fewest and tersest words this national recognition . . ."

The Coinage Act of January 18, 1837 which prescribed the mottoes and devices to appear upon the coins, placed a roadblock in Secretary Chase's path and legislation was needed to remove it. Then as now, legislation moved at a snail's pace.

In December 1863, Director Pollock submitted to Chase for his approval, a design for the cent and designs for the proposed two cent piece and nickel three cent piece, on which it was proposed that one of the following mottoes should appear: "OUR COUNTRY, OUR GOD" or "GOD OUR TRUST."

Secretary Chase replied, "I approve your mottoes, only suggesting that on the two cent piece it should be changed so as to read, 'IN GOD WE TRUST.'" With the exception of the two cent piece, the pattern bearing the mottoes were not adopted. As mentioned earlier, the two cent piece was authorized on April 22, 1864 and by year's end almost 20 000 000 had been struck.

Various later acts provided for the inclusion of the motto on other coins and by Public Law 140 of the 84th Congress, which was signed into law on July 11, 1955 the inclusion of the motto became mandatory on all coins. This act also provided for its appearance on all currency; beginning with the $1 Silver Certificates issued in 1957. On July 30, 1956, President Eisenhower signed into law a joint resolution of the 84th Congress, decreeing "IN GOD WE TRUST" to be the national motto.

Over the years attempts have been made to remove the motto from the currency, the two most notable for completely different reasons.

In 1907 Augustus St. Gaudens, at the instigation of President Theodore Roosevelt prepared new designs for the eagle and double eagle, in an attempt to introduce to our coinage the beauty as that of the Ancient Greeks. T.R. also took this opportunity to remove the motto from those denominations for religious reasons. Misunderstanding his intentions, the public protested its exclusion. In response to the criticism, T.R. made this statement:

"When the question of the new coinage came up we looked into the law and found there was no warrant for putting 'IN GOD WE TRUST' on the coins. As the custom, although without legal warrant, has grown up, however, I might have felt at liberty to keep the inscription had I approved of its being on the coinage. But as I did not approve of it, I did not direct that it should again be put on.

"Of course, the matter of the law is absolutely in the hands of Congress and any direction of Congress in the matter will be immediately obeyed. At present as I have said, there is no warrant in law for the inscription.

"My own feeling in the matter is due to my very firm conviction that to put such a motto on coins or to use it in any kindred manner not only does no good but does positive harm, and is in effect irreverence which comes dangerously close to sacrilege. A beautiful and solemn sentence such as the one in question should be treated and uttered with that fine reverence which necessarily implies a certain exaltation of spirit.

"Any use which tends to cheapen it, and above all, any use which tends to secure its being treated in a spirit of levity, is from every standpoint profoundly to be regretted. It is a motto which is indeed well to have inscribed in our great national monuments, in our temples of justice, in our legislative hall and in buildings such as those at West Point and Annapolis - in short, wherever it will tend to arouse and inspire a lofty emotion in those who look thereon. But it seems to me eminently unwise to cheapen it by use on postage stamps, or in advertisements.

"As regards its use on coinage, we have actual experience by which to go. In all my life I have never heard any human being speak reverently of this motto on the coins, or show any sign of its having appealed to any high emotion in him, but I have literally hundreds of times heard it used as an occasion of, and incitement to the sneering ridicule which is above all things undesirable that so beautiful and exalted a phrase should excite.

"For example, throughout the long contest expanding over several decades on the free coinage question, the existence of this motto on the coins was a constant source of jest and ridicule; and this was unavoidable. Everyone must remember the innumerable cartoons and articles based on phrases like IN GOD WE TRUST FOR THE SHORT WEIGHT, IN GOD WE TRUST FOR THE THIRTY SEVEN CENTS WE DO NOT PAY, etc., etc. Surely I am well within bounds when I say that any use of the phrase which invites constant levity of this type is most undesirable. If Congress alters the law and directs me to replace on the coins the sentence in question, the direction will be immediately put into effect, but I very earnestly trust that the religious sentiment of the country, the spirit of reverence in the country will prevent any such action being taken."

Bowing to public pressure, the Congress passed the Act of May 18, 1908 which provided for the inclusion of the motto on the eagle and double eagle. Curiously, six years later when the "Buffalo" nickel entered circulation, without the motto, there was no public outcry.

The latest attempt to remove the motto occurred a few years ago, and it was instigated by an atheist Texas woman. Fortunately, she did not succeed.

If Rev. Watkinson could return and see the state of things today, I'm sure he would feel its appearance on the currency is as important as when when he first proposed it!

DISPLAY ILLUSTRATES BOND HISTORY

Frank Galindo knows the history of U.S. Savings Bonds and each year during the Savings Bond drive, he displays his extensive collection of bonds, advertising posters, pin-backs, decals, stamps and other memorabilia at San Antonio's Kelly Air Force Base.

Samples of his collection graced the front of the commander's office at Air Logistics Center headquarters and contained more than a hundred World War I and II posters.

Bonds were started originally to support the WW I effort and were called Liberty Loan drives. By WW II the same campaigns were dubbed war bond drives. Well known poster illustrators of the time such as Howard Chandler Christy, James Montgomery Flagg and Joseph C. Leyendecker are represented. Also included in the exhibit were pamphlets, flyers, bus cards, badges, certificates, postcards, books, sheet music and pencils.

Galindo's interest in U.S. history, particularly in the two war eras, and aviation, whetted his appetite for things connected with the periods. He started his collection in 1973. He found there were five Liberty Loan drives during the first war and seven war bond campaigns in the second.

In the early days of bonds, individuals purchased stamps, collecting them in special books to be redeemed for bonds at a bank. Today, however, payroll deduction makes bonds a convenient way to save money.

Galindo, a 2851st Air Base Group audiovisual services branch quality assurance specialist, is serving as TNA District 7 governor.

TNA — EL PASO '85

Texas-style hospitality is being planned for TNA convention visitors next April 19, 20, 21 in El Paso, according to convention officials.

Committee chairmen appointed by the host club, International Coin Club, to carry out those plans are Walt Woelper, TNA District 10 governor, bourse; Mike Batkin, exhibits; Larry Bettis, publicity; Rudy Armendariz, program; George Nowak, registration; Marlin Haines, auction; and Willie Terrazas entertainment.

What to do in El Paso while attending the convention? Well, El Paso is a town with scenery and history as dramatic as its name implies. El Paso del Norte (The Pass of the North) was the entry way through the mountains for Europeans as early as 1581. The tales of pioneer courage and determination weave the fabric of El Paso's history.

Spaniards came seeking gold. Then came the missions, established before the Pilgrims ever set sail from England. El Paso is nestled in a valley surrounded by the Hueco and Guadalupe Mountains to the east, and the Franklin Mountains to the north.

El Paso's beginning history is recorded in the many museums in the city. The El Paso Museum of Art has the multi-million dollar Kress collection and an original Gilbert Stuart portrait of George Washington. The Museum of History tells the story of the conquistadores and Pancho Villa who lived in exile in El Paso for a few months during 1911. Fort Bliss has frontier artifacts and a replica of the original adobe fort. The fort is now the largest air defense training center in the western world. The missions built in and around El Paso in the early 1680's are Yselta, Socorro and San Elizario Presidio.

Juarez, Mexico, just across the border, is a must for visitors. The sister city has the only Lincoln Memorial standing outside the United States. Lincoln's likeness overlooks the boulevard leading into Juarez from the Cordova Bridge. Tourists make their way over that bridge to shop in Mexico bringing home Mexican wares such as embroidered dresses and blouses for the ladies, native weaving, silver work, leather goods and assorted souvenirs. Popular events to see there are the greyhound dog racing and bull fighting.

Dealers should contact Woelper for bourse applications at Box 3535, El Paso 79923. Requests for exhibit applications should be sent to the same address.

from the 2nd vice president

Texas Numismatic Association

Gerald W. Kendall
Box 55545, Houston, TX. 77055

For several months now there has been no page from the 2nd vice president. One time I just forgot until the deadline had passed. But those other times, I feel I must lay the blame on one of the late Al Capp's favorite objects of his lampoon comic strip "Li'l Abner," the good ole U.S. Mule.

It seems that San Antonio will be the spot in February. Sure hope the city will pass a law banning Old Man Winter so the ANA MIDWINTER convention is a big success.

Another member has reminded me to get the TNA judging need before the organization. We were fortunate to get another ANA judge certified from Texas. He is Bernard Loebe from Houston. His field is Latin America with a heavy accent on Venezuela. He has exhibited a few times at the Houston show and has a very impressive amount of materials and knowledge.

A plea has gone out from El Paso for qualified judges for the 1985 TNA convention. Anyone having been qualified by ANA or TNA is urged to volunteer for this service. Governor Walt Woelper should be contacted. Anyone desiring to become qualified by ANA or TNA should contact Walt or me and provisions will be made at the convention. The rules are simple. The field or fields are chosen and a test is given on the exhibits and the applicant is then graded. This is the procedure followed by ANA.

MINERS GO DEEPER TO PRODUCE SILVER

Two thousand years ago shepherds in the Pyrenees mountains of Spain needed only to set forest fires whose heat would release silver from out-cropping sulfides, resulting in sparkling rivulets of molten silver pouring down the mountain sides. As the years went on the Carthaginians and then the Romans dug mines in the same locations to gain silver which was the accepted trade currency for the ancient Spice Trade with India.

It was the drive for this that sent Columbus to the New World. The conquistadores who responded to his reports began to tap the silver ores in what is now Peru, Bolivia and Mexico.

It is in the Cordilleras, the backbone of the American continents, that the richest sources of silver are to be found. The mines of Comania de Real del Monte y Pachuca, S.A., Hidalgo, Mexico have been producing silver requiring continuously improving technology for more than 400 years.

In North America, the richest sources of silver are now being worked in the Silver Valley of Idaho, where the men of Hecla Mining Co. of Wallace, Idaho work 6,200 feet below the surface, mining ore which may contain 18 troy ounces of silver per ton.

As the years go on, available silver veins are less rich and deeper, and the silver miners are constantly applying innovative, safe and effective

BRITISH COINS

To celebrate the 75th anniversary of the First Hereditary Monarch, Bhutan issued two commemorative coins in gold and silver. A gold Ser-tum and a sterling silver 200 Ngul-tram piece share the common obverse design of a portrait of H.M. King Ugyen Wangchuck, and an inscription "Druk Gyalpo" - Precious Ruler of the Dragon People.

The Kingdom of Bhutan is located in the eastern Himalayas between China and India. Ruled by various regional leaders through the centuries, the country became united in 1907 under the First Hereditary Monarch. For hundreds of years the Bhutanese lived a life of self imposed isolation and it is particularly interesting to note that it was not until contact with the outside world began to grow in the 1950's, that Bhutan issued its first coins.

WELCOME TO TEXAS AND SAN ANTONIO

ANA — '85

The Gateway and Alamo Coin Clubs of San Antonio are hosting the 7th MIDWINTER ANA convention and plans are shaping up, according to Davis Burnett, general chairman, and Tom Walker, assistant chairman. Walker is also president of the Gateway club and Richard Pinette heads up the Alamo club.

The mid-year convention is set for February 21-24 at the Convention Center directly across Market St. from the Marriott Hotel, convention headquarters.

Heading committees are Dan Kruger, finance; Al Naumann, publicity; Ray Tate, bourse; Frank and Karla Galindo, exhibits; Miriam Gilmore, patron list; Robin Ellis, tours.

Also, Mike Greenspan, pre-registration; Gordon Haeglin, registration; Richard Pinette, properties; Del Cooke, message center; Frank O'Sullivan, medals; Todd Shewmaker, pages; and Betty Medlar and Judy Barnett, spouse activities and banquet arrangements.

Entertainment in the "All America City?" Visitors will be fascinated with the downtown landscaped River Walk with its quaint shops and restaurants dotting both sides of the San Antonio River which flows through the heart of the city.

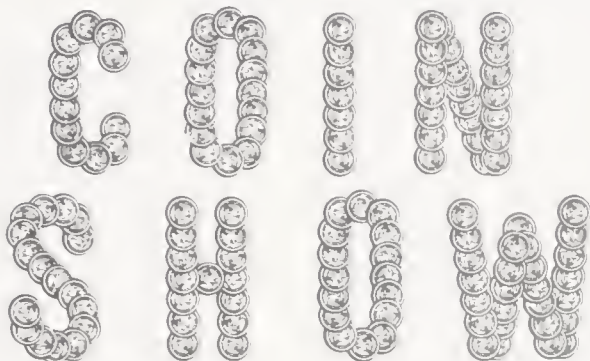

Downtown walking tours conducted by club members will take in the Alamo, known as the "Shrine of Texas Liberty," historic La Villita; Tower of the Americas, built for the 1968 World's Fair; the Hertzberg

Circus Collection, one of the largest Circusana in the world; the Main Library designed with a boat marina at its river level. Boat tours will also be available for a scenic river ride.

El Mercado, a restored Mexican and Farmers Market, is also within walking distance or visitors can take the short ride on one of San Antonio's streetcars which resumed runs in 1983. Also on the visitor's list is the Spanish Governor's Palace, reputed to be the home of Spanish Colonial Tejas. It is furnished now as it was more than 200 years ago. The Institute of Texas Cultures offers a fascinating look at Texas history through the eyes of the ethnic groups that have lived here. San Antonians have never given up the past. The King William section covering many downtown blocks shows the tree-shaded neighborhood of beautifully restored Victorian homes.

Other sights to see are Sunken Gardens nestled in Brackenridge Park, the flowers, ponds and hidden paths; San Antonio Zoo housing one of the best collections of animals in the U.S.; a taste of Old Texas will be found at the Lone Star Buckhorn Saloon and Museum; old Fort Sam Houston; the Spanish missions - San Antonio retains the flavor of its past but is as modern as the space age. There are so many unique sites to see and things to do in the beautiful city of San Antonio.

Ron Blaha presented a slide program on "United States Hardtime Coins" and showed some typical samples at the Dallas Coin Club meeting. Ten to twenty million of the tokens were produced during 1828-1841, aside from the U.S. mint issue of 29 million regular cents. Store owners purchased these for 60 cents per 100 from such companies as the Scovill Military Button Co. in Waterbury. Early tokens were patriotic, but later they became cynical and political, especially during the Jackson campaign.

Gertrud Welch won the door prize and Barney Welch conducted the auction. - Ben Hong, Sec.

Numismatics International of Dallas has announced that at the New York International Numismatic Convention, a general meeting and educational program will be held. new George R. Brown Convention Center, availability of convention space and the services the council provides to promote Houston.

Under discussion were plans for the 28th annual Money Show in January. Door prize winners were Ellen Morrow and Melvin L. Neal. - Melvin L. Neal, Sec.

*****

Members of Bellaire Coin Club are urged to attend the club meetings, participate in the programs, auctions and entertainment.

From the Club Bulletin: Have you ever given thought to the really fascinating hobby of numismatics? For example: A coin produced by the ancient Romans, and circulated during the time of Christ, can be purchased for a fraction of the price of a base metal coin, one cent piece which suffered an accident at the mint only 30 years ago. If coins could talk just imagine the tales we would enjoy from our collection. This is fantasy, but history of the days in which coins originated is available to all, and reading is akin to hearing to gain knowledge. We can improve our numismatic knowledge at every turn if we try. For example, read, or re-read the early pages of your "Guide Book of United States Coins" (Red Book) and be amazed at the knowledge you find.

*****
